RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CEO

The Chief Executive Officer of the Company is responsible for the preparation of interim consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the Company's interim consolidated financial position as at September 30, 2026, as well as its consolidated business performance and consolidated cash flows for the financial period then ended, in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Accounting Regime for Enterprises, and relevant legal regulations governing the preparation and presentation of interim consolidated financial statements. In preparing these interim consolidated financial statements, the Chief Executive Officer is required to:

- Selecting appropriate accounting policies and applying them consistently;
- Making reasonable and prudent judgments and estimates;
- Stating whether the applicable accounting principles have been complied with and disclosing and explaining any material departures from such principles in the interim consolidated financial statements;
- Preparing the interim consolidated financial statements on a going concern basis, unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Company will continue its business operations; and
- Designing and implementing an effective internal control system for the purpose of preparing and presenting fairly the interim consolidated financial statements, thereby minimizing the risks of errors and fraud.

The Chief Executive Officer of the Company is responsible for ensuring that the accounting records are properly maintained to reflect fairly the consolidated financial position of the Company at any time and for ensuring that the interim consolidated financial statements comply with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Accounting Regime for Enterprises, and relevant legal regulations governing the preparation and presentation of interim consolidated financial statements. The Chief Executive Officer is also responsible for safeguarding the Company's assets and taking appropriate measures to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

The Chief Executive Officer confirms that the Company has complied with the aforementioned requirements in the preparation of the interim consolidated financial statements.

Nguyen Thi Thuy Giang
CEO

Explanatory Note on the Comparability of Information in the Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

The comparative figures presented in the Interim Consolidated Balance Sheet and the corresponding notes are derived from the audited consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended December 31, 2025.

The comparative figures presented in the Interim Consolidated Income Statement, the Interim Consolidated Cash Flow Statement and the corresponding notes are derived from the interim consolidated financial statements for the second quarter of 2025.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF THE INTERIM CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND FINANCIAL PERIOD

Basis of preparation of the interim consolidated financial statements

The accompanying interim consolidated financial statements are presented in Vietnamese Dong (VND), under the historical cost convention and in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Accounting Regime for Enterprises, and relevant legal regulations governing the preparation and presentation of interim consolidated financial statements.

The accompanying interim consolidated financial statements are not intended to present the financial position, business performance and cash flows in accordance with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in countries and jurisdictions other than Vietnam.

The interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared by consolidating the interim financial statements of the Parent Company and its subsidiaries.

Financial Period

The Company's annual accounting period begins on January 1 and ends on December 31.

These interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared for the three-month operating period commencing on Julyl 1, 2026 and ending on September 30, 2026.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following are the principal accounting policies adopted by the Company in preparing its interim consolidated financial statements:

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of interim consolidated financial statements in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Accounting Regime for Enterprises, and relevant legal regulations governing the preparation and presentation of interim consolidated financial statements requires the Chief Executive Officer to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of liabilities and assets, the disclosure of contingent liabilities and assets at the reporting date, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses throughout the financial period. Although these accounting estimates are made based on the Chief Executive Officer's best knowledge, actual results may differ from the estimates and assumptions made.

Basis of consolidation of interim financial statements

The interim consolidated financial statements comprise the interim financial statements of the Company and those of entities controlled by the Company (its subsidiaries) for the three-month operating period commencing on July 1, 2026 and ending on September 30, 2026. Control is achieved when the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an investee in order to obtain benefits from its activities.

The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are included in the Interim Consolidated Income Statement from the acquisition date or up to the disposal date, as applicable.

Where necessary, the interim financial statements of subsidiaries are adjusted to ensure consistency with the accounting policies adopted by the Company and its subsidiaries.

All intercompany transactions and balances within the Group are eliminated upon consolidation of the interim financial statements.

Non-controlling interests comprise the value of non-controlling interests at the date of the initial business combination (for further details, see the disclosure below) and the non-controlling interests' share of changes in total equity since the date of the business combination. Losses incurred by subsidiaries are allocated to non-controlling interests in proportion to their ownership interests, even if such losses exceed the non-controlling interests' share of the subsidiaries' net assets.

Business combinations

The identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of a subsidiary are recognised at their fair values at the acquisition date. Any excess of the purchase consideration over the aggregate fair value of the identifiable assets acquired is recognised as goodwill. Any shortfall of the purchase consideration below the aggregate fair value of the identifiable assets acquired is recognised in the income statement in the accounting period in which the acquisition of the subsidiary takes place.
Non-controlling interests at the date of the initial business combination are determined based on the non-controlling shareholders' proportionate share of the aggregate fair value of the recognised assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities.

Cash

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits.

Financial Investments

Investments in equity instruments of other entities

Investments in equity instruments of other entities represent investments in equity instruments over which the Company has neither control, joint control nor significant influence.

Investments in equity instruments of other entities are stated at cost less provisions for impairment of investments.

Receivables

Trade receivables represent amounts recoverable from customers or other parties. Trade receivables are presented at their carrying amounts less provisions for doubtful debts.

Provisions for doubtful debts are made for receivables that are overdue for payment or for which the debtor is unlikely to be able to settle the debt due to liquidation, bankruptcy or other similar difficulties.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories comprises the purchase cost and other costs directly attributable to the acquisition of inventories. The Company applies the perpetual inventory method to record inventories. The cost of inventories is determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price less the estimated costs of completion, marketing, selling and distribution.

The Company's provision for inventory obsolescence is made in accordance with prevailing accounting regulations. Accordingly, the Company is permitted to make provisions for obsolete, damaged or substandard inventories and where the cost of inventories exceeds their net realisable value at the end of the financial period.

Tangible Fixed Assets and Depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation.

The cost of tangible fixed assets acquired through purchases comprises the purchase price and all other costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to the location and condition necessary for them to be capable of operating as intended.

The cost of self-constructed tangible fixed assets comprises actual construction and production costs incurred, together with installation and commissioning costs.

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The specific depreciation periods are as follows:

	Number of Years
Buildings and Structures	05 - 48
Machinery and Equipment	06 - 15
Office Equipment	08 - 10
Motor Vehicles	05 - 15
Other Fixed Assets	10

Gains or losses arising from the disposal or sale of assets are determined as the difference between the net proceeds from disposal and the carrying amount of the assets and are recognised in the Interim Consolidated Income Statement.

Leases

A lease is classified as a finance lease if substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased asset are transferred to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Company as Lessee

A lease is classified as an operating lease if substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased asset remain with the lessor. Operating lease expenses are recognised in the Interim Consolidated Income Statement on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Any payments received or receivable as an incentive to enter into an operating lease are also recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Intangible Fixed Assets and Amortisation

Land Use Rights

Intangible fixed assets represent the value of land use rights in the Nguyen The Nho Residential Area, Viet Yen Ward, Bac Ninh Province, and are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation. Land use rights are amortised over the useful life of the land plot of 50 years.

Computer Software

Computer software is initially recognised at cost and amortised using the straight-line method over a period ranging from 8 to 20 years.

Construction in Progress

Assets under construction for production, rental, administrative or other purposes are recorded at cost, including all costs necessary to bring the assets to the condition required for their intended use, in accordance with the Company's accounting policies. Depreciation of these assets is applied on the same basis as for other assets and commences when the assets are ready for use.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses comprise actual costs incurred that relate to the operating results of multiple financial periods. Prepaid expenses include maintenance and repair costs, insurance costs and other prepaid expenses.

Maintenance and repair costs of fixed assets represent major repair costs incurred on a one-off basis, which are significant in amount and are allocated to the Interim Income Statement on a straight-line basis over a period not exceeding three years.

Insurance costs represent insurance premiums paid in a lump sum upon entering into insurance contracts and are allocated to the Interim Income Statement on a straight-line basis over the insurance coverage period specified in each contract.

Other prepaid expenses include the cost of tools, instruments and small spare parts issued for use, as well as other costs considered likely to generate future economic benefits. These costs are capitalised as prepaid expenses and allocated to the Interim Income Statement on a straight-line basis in accordance with prevailing accounting regulations.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from Rendering of Services

Revenue from service transactions is recognised when the outcome of the transaction can be reliably measured. Where a service transaction relates to multiple periods, revenue is recognised in each period based on the stage of completion of the work performed as at the date of the Interim Balance Sheet for that period. The outcome of a service transaction is considered reliably measurable when all four (4) of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) Revenue can be measured reliably;
(b) It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the service transaction will flow to the Company;
(c) The stage of completion of the transaction as at the date of the Interim Balance Sheet can be measured reliably; and
(d) The costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the service transaction can be measured reliably.

Revenue from sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when all five (5) of the following conditions are simultaneously satisfied:

(a) The Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the products or goods to the buyer;
(b) The Company retains neither the managerial involvement associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
(c) The revenue can be measured reliably;
(d) It is probable that the Company will obtain the economic benefits from the sales transaction; and
(e) The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the sales transaction can be measured reliably.
Interest income from bank deposits is recognised on an accrual basis and is determined based on the balances of deposit accounts and the applicable interest rates.

Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs are recognised as expenses in the period in which they are incurred, unless they are capitalised in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 16 "Borrowing Costs". Accordingly, borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of assets that require a substantial period of time to be ready for their intended use or sale are added to the cost of those assets until they are ready for their intended use or sale. Income earned from the temporary investment of specific borrowings is deducted from the cost of the related assets. For specific borrowings used to finance the construction of fixed assets or investment properties, borrowing costs are capitalised even when the construction period is less than 12 months. Other borrowing costs are recognised in the Interim Income Statement as incurred.

Taxation

Corporate income tax represents the total amount of current tax payable and deferred tax.

Current tax payable is based on taxable income for the period. Taxable income differs from profit before tax as reported in the Interim Income Statement because it excludes items of income or expenses that are taxable or deductible in other periods, as well as items that are non-taxable or non-deductible.

Deferred income tax is calculated on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the interim separate financial statements and their respective tax bases, using the balance sheet method. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, while deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available in the future against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred income tax is measured at the tax rates expected to apply in the period when the assets are realised or the liabilities are settled. Deferred income tax is recognised in the Interim Income Statement, except when it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case the deferred tax is also recognised directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset when the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities, and when the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to corporate income tax levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

The determination of the Company's income tax is based on current tax regulations. However, these regulations may change from time to time, and the final determination of corporate income tax is subject to examination by the competent tax authorities.

Other taxes are applied in accordance with the prevailing tax laws of Vietnam.
